DECEMBER 1, 2017

We are so energized this year, and our season lineup is fantastic, including a performance in January with Steven Ansell, the principal violist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. And our upcoming holiday concert including Thundercats, Paddington, and Rudolf, should be a crowd pleaser. March brings our annual Young Artist who is always a phenom, and our Pops concert will be a delight with Maureen McMullan and music by Bernstein, John Williams, and Bernie Hoffer. Please visit our website for a full season overview.

Please consider making a tax-deductible contribution to the Concord Orchestra this year, so that we may continue to perform a blend of the wonderful classical repertoire and more contemporary music, together with world-class concert artists, all right here in Concord. Ticket sales cover about 50% of our expenses, and this annual appeal is a critical component for us to meet our fundraising goals. The orchestra has never sounded better, and never been more financially solid, thanks to the continued commitment of our members, patrons, sponsors, friends and supporters.

We take pride in bringing you “music by the community, for the community.”

Your contribution will be recognized by level in all our regular concert programs throughout the year. On behalf of all the musicians and volunteers who make up the Concord Orchestra, we thank you for your support.
